From Your Rep:

CASAs:

Fall training is heading into the last week. We have 13 new volunteers. Please feel free to stop by any of the remaining classes. Communications (interviewing, etc.) and Report writing are coming up on the 6th and 8th. As always, there is good food.

I am enjoying my time immensely here in the office. Something new every day, but pretty sure the staff is counting the days until Taryn returns.

Please remember that you as a CASA are sometimes the only constant in the lives of these children. They look forward to your visits and conversations. If they know you are coming once a month (or more), it gives them something to look forward to.

I have had several requests for some type of group meetings for the CASA volunteers. Somewhere they can talk freely and possibly get ideas and help from other volunteers. I will work on that!

A special thank you to all of you who offered to Adopt an Angel. The names of the children should be in next week. We will be in touch.

A percentage of all funds collected at the Egg Harbor Café (at Edgebrook) during November will be donated to CASA. Stop by the restaurant for breakfast or lunch — enjoy the food while you are making a donation to CASA.

Thanks to those who have offered to purchase a gift for a child as part of:

“Adopt an Angel”

We will have the tags with the children's information in the office by Nov. 5th, and then will get them to those who have volunteered. The gifts must be brought to the CASA office — wrapped — by Nov. 30th. Enjoy the opportunity to make a child's holidays a little brighter!

CASA Cookbook

We still need recipes for the CASA Cookbook. As you are thinking about holiday dishes, please take a few minutes and send us some of your recipes. You can mail or email them to the CASA office, or email them to Zan at: casazan@wincoil.us. We know that many of you are great cooks and bakers, so please share your recipes. We think this cookbook will be able to be appreciated and sold for a very long time.
